THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

My Own Pool Of Bethesda

We take life for granted as life can change in an instant. Friday three weeks ago I slipped on black ice going back down our steps leading to our front door. The weirdest thing is that just a few minutes before when coming out the door, up the same steps, there was no indication of anything treacherous. Stepping from the cobbled stones onto the cement step, my foot glided forward and I tumbled backwards landing on my pelvis. The wind was knocked out of me and there was a sudden and violent rush of pain that seeped into my lower back and pelvis. The thoughts that go racing through my mind as I could not put weight on my right leg due to the intense pain in the pelvis...thankfully after being checked out at A&E I got the all clear. My thoughts turn to the Pool of Bethesda, in Jerusalem. Bethesda meaning House of Mercy/Grace. A place where people would come in the hope of healing. Jesus performs a miracle on the Sabbath by simply asking the invalid, 'Do you want to get well?' That same Mercy/Grace is still echoed through the ages to today by Jesus to us...no matter the circumstances...He continues to ask: 'do YOU want to get well?'
