THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The buck stops with you!

The phrase, ‘The buck stops here’ means that responsibility is not passed on beyond this point. Take a few moments to let that thought sink into your mind.

Now take a few moments to think through how you handle that responsibility.

U.S. president Harry S. Truman had a sign with this inscription on his desk. This was meant to indicate that he didn't ‘pass the buck’ to anyone else but accepted personal responsibility for the way the country was governed.

How does Harry S. Truman’s sign impact on us as church members? If you are tempted to ask the question, ‘Why does the church not...?’, remember, the buck stops with you! If the church is not doing the things you feel it should, don’t be critical or ask questions, rather, offer to help in whatever way you can to make up the deficiency.

Who is ‘the church’? The buck stops with you! Collectively we are the church, each individual member taking responsibility for the smooth running of the church’s activities and mission. If you are invited to take part in a programme of the church, but find circumstances prevent you, remember, the buck stops with you! Ask someone else to take your responsibility and offer to take theirs in return.

When the treasurer pleads from the platform for more financial support for the church, remember, the buck stops with you! The only money the church has is the Tithe and thank offering you give. ‘Freely you have received, freely give.’ (Matt. 10:8)

God bless you with responsibility and generosity in 2013.

Pastor Neil Robertson
